

Tower of Power

Which appliance can you get to work?

Plug in one of the appliances, and turn one of the generators.

Which appliance can you get to work?

Try it with two or three people turning the generators.

Some appliances need more power than others. It is quite easy to get the radio to work, but you probably need three people to power the television.

Notice how hard you had to work to get the appliances to operate. Many of the appliances that we use every day need far more power than we could comfortably produce with our bodies.
