

Magnetic sculpture

What shapes can you make with the steel discs?

Put the steel discs into the gap of the giant magnet.

The discs are not normally magnetic. But when they are close to the big magnet they become temporarily magnetised. Their magnetism makes them stick to each other. Steel is mainly iron, which is why it can be magnetised.