

Vortex cannon

Can you manage to hit the silk cloths under the ceiling with air?

Hit gently the middle of the black drumskin of the vortex cannon.

Watch what happens to the silk cloths under the ceiling.
Can you hit other targets?

Hitting the drum generates a gust of air that rattles the silk cloths. The gust of air has the shape of a ring.

Hitting the drum pushes the air through the hole at the other end of the drum. The edges of the opening slow down the air stream at the sides, but the air in the middle travels freely. The result is a twisting ring of air.
